Your Access to the Brightest Surgical Minds— The Ones Who Need What You Have to Offer

Direct Access to the Surgical Community That Shapes Practice

ACS Clinical Congress brings together one of the largest and most diverse audiences of practicing surgeons in the world, representing general surgery and a wide range of subspecialties. The exhibit hall is intentionally designed as an extension of the educational program, creating space for informed, peer-level conversations between surgeons and the companies supporting their work. For exhibitors and sponsors, this means engaging with clinicians who actively evaluate new approaches, influence standards of care, and shape decision-making within their institutions and professional networks.

A Highly Trusted Environment of Clinical Discovery

Clinical Congress operates within the rigor, credibility, and professional standards of the American College of Surgeons. All exhibiting companies and showcased solutions are directly relevant to surgical practice, patient care, and safety. This creates a setting where innovation is explored thoughtfully and where conversations are grounded in real clinical needs. For industry partners, this trust-based environment supports deeper engagement and positions products and services within the context of evidence, outcomes, and surgeon education.

Engagement That Extends Beyond the Booth

The Clinical Congress experience is designed to support meaningful interaction through live demonstrations, hands-on learning, innovation-focused programming, and proximity to education sessions. Rather than existing as a separate commercial space, the exhibit hall is integrated into the overall flow of the meeting. This allows exhibitors and sponsors to connect with surgeons in ways that reflect how new technologies and solutions are evaluated in practice—through experience, discussion, and peer insight.

offers a rare opportunity to reach multiple clinical audiences in one setting. Surgeons attend to learn, explore, and discover beyond the boundaries of their primary focus area, creating organic opportunities for cross-specialty visibility. For exhibitors and sponsors, this breadth supports awareness, discovery, and relevance across a wider segment of the surgical community than most specialty-specific meetings.

Global Perspective with a Strong North American Foundation

Clinical Congress attracts a robust U.S.-based audience alongside surgeons from around the world, bringing together a wide range of healthcare systems, practice environments, and perspectives. This international presence enhances the exchange of ideas and broadens the scope of conversations on the exhibit floor. For companies with national or global reach, the Congress offers a centralized platform to engage surgeons across markets while maintaining a strong connection to North American practice.
